Republican Nominations.

We learn from the Madison Journal that the republican state central committee propose to call a convention for the nomination of a state ticket, and that the convention will be held somewhat later than usual, believing that the people wish as short a canvass this fall as is consistent with a fair presentation of the issues which it involves, and of the character and qualifications of the candidates.

Since it is apparent from the tone of the democratic press that they intend to continue the political warfare of the past, without reference to the present condition of the country, it becomes necessary, we suppose, for the republicans, in self-defense, to make their usual nominations. As a partisan contest must be distasteful to a large majority of the people, we hope the suggestion of a late convention will be heeded and adopted. While the Union is in danger and needs the earnest and individual support of all its true sons, let us spend as little of our time and energy as possible in political wrangling.

BALTIMORE TRAITORS.—The N. Y. Tribune says: "We have the best authority for the statement that Mr. Jeff. Davis receives a daily letter from Mr. S. T. McKee, Wallis and others in Baltimore, and keeps his friends there constantly informed of his wishes. His present advice to them is not now to attempt a rising, as it would complicate matters unnecessarily; they are to wait for his arrival at that vicinity, which he does not think will be much longer delayed."

A GALLANT EDITOR.—The name of the captain who marched his company off the battlefield of Bull's Run in regular order, and on the road to Washington, amid the panic rout, was Joseph Hawley, captain of Rifle Company A, 1st Connecticut Regiment, and formerly editor of the Hartford News. All honor to the journalistic soldier!

Captain Poole of the United States steamer Brooklyn, who allowed the private Sumter to run the blockade, has performed a similar exploit, by allowing a rebel schooner to take her departure, from a pass at the mouth of the Mississippi, without attempting to capture her, although able to do so. An officer writes: "Queer things are done here all the time."

Lieut. Col. Tyler, adjutant general under Beauregard at the battle of Manassas, taken at Cincinnati, is detained by order of Gen. Scott.

AN OFFER TO COMPROMISE.—The Louisville Journal says that Kentucky soil has been invaded by the rebels from Tennessee, who have stolen arms, provisions, &c. The Journal promises that if they will come over and steal Governor Magoffin, all the other thefts shall be forgiven.

BATTLE AT SPRINGFIELD.—The Louisville Courier (secession) of last Monday, contains the following:

"A gentleman who arrived in this city Friday morning, from St. Louis, says that city was in a state of considerable excitement the day previous, on the reception of startling intelligence which was kept from the public. We now have no doubt that a sanguinary battle has been fought at Springfield, and the federals were routed."

We do not know but that such reports are published in good faith, but they unfortunately establish the manner in which the public mind of the south is misled, and show how the hope of success is fed and kept alive.

The New York democrats have refused to accept the invitation of the republicans to unite in a union convention; but they promise to make their platform so broad that everybody can stand upon it. It is not necessary that it should have but one plank—sustain the government in putting down the rebellion—that is about all the politics now wanted. There are only two kinds of people in the country at this time—patriots and traitors—if the democracy make their platform broad enough to include the latter class, the former will leave them.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT OF VIRGINIA, according to the Wheeling Intelligence, is succeeding beyond the most sanguine expectations. Troops are being rapidly organized under it, and the prediction is made that before the summer is ended ten thousand Virginians will be under arms to sustain the government.

DOMESTIC SCENE.—Sunday morning, a little five year old boy, not usually very demonstrative in his filial affection, left his own nest and crept into his father's bed, and putting his arms round his neck, patted him on the forehead and said: "Papa, papa, I love you papa." The old man felt his heart thumping against his ribs, and answered, "And I love my little boy, dearly." Pat, pat, went the little hand on the forehead cheek again. "Papa, I want to kiss you." Smack after smack occurred, and after a pause—"Papa, papa, have you seen that great big circus picture, with the big Rinassee-ous, with a horn on his nose, and the man jumping, oh, so high?" "Well, wagner a hat the little boy goes to the circus."—St. Paul Pioneer.

MESSRS. EDITORS: With your permission and a short excuse for a few weeks, suspension of my notes, I will resume the subject. Two days previous to the "great movement" which I promised you would be made "in a few days," I prepared a communication for the Gazette in which I ventured to foreshadow the "order of exercises." Before mailing my manuscript, however, it was currently reported that it was the "earnest desire of the commander-in-chief that information respecting military movements might be withheld." For my own reputation, as a true prophet, it is well that I have heeded to that desire, as my plan was that "a cautious march was to be made by the grand army here, under General McDowell, upon Manassas Junction, avoiding the direct route by way of Bull's Run, which was said to be strongly fortified by masked batteries, that simultaneously with the advance here General Patterson was to attack Johnson near Winchester, cutting off his communication with Beauregard or following closely upon his heels if he attempted it, and that General Butler was to menace Richmond by an attack upon Yorktown, keeping Beauregard's reserve at Richmond from supporting his forces at the Junction." That I had made up this plan entirely from what appeared to me to be a common sense view of the subject without any prompting from official quarters the result fully shows. General Scott, if McDowell acted under orders from headquarters, had a different plan, and for once my reputation as a prophet was staked upon a wrong estimate of what a universally admitted wisdom and sagacity would have seemed to dictate.

In my great mistake upon this point, however, I have this consolation that I am not alone. I think I may say that scores of brave soldiers with whom I have conversed since the day of that deadly and unequal strife, and who returned from the bloody field "saved so by fire," are wondering what could have been the "military necessity" of their having been thrown in solid columns into the very mouth of that volcano at Bull's Run on Thursday, then waiting just long enough before renewing the attack for Johnson to get down, and for Patterson not to get down, had he been even so much inclined. Wondering too at another "military necessity"—notoriously significant—that forced into that slaughter-house the Massachusetts, Vermont, Connecticut, New York, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota regiments, and kept them there almost to a man for nine hours, meeting charge after charge of the enemy's cavalry with the war cry of "COME ON YOU D—D ABOLITIONISTS WE'LL TEACH YOU TO COME DOWN HERE TO FIGHT US!" while the regiments of the conservative states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey with three large regiments of foreigners, admitted to be the best fighting men in the service, were kept in reserve, ostensibly "to cover a retreat!" To act—as one of the Vermont boys said—"as an escort for what was left of us, during an all night retreat after having fought all day, with nothing to eat or drink except Bull's Run mud!" As the incidents of that strange proceeding are being developed, is the country becoming satisfied that these disastrous results were the mere casualties of war? Accidents that an ordinary prudence and judgment could not have prevented? Or is there weight in the reasoning of the noble men who "bore the brunt of the battle?" "It seemed to me," said a Massachusetts soldier, "that the whole thing was arranged by Providence, or somebody, so as to give the exulting slaveholders the fairest possible chance with the 'd—d abolitionists.'" Said a Connecticut man, "it was an uphill business all day—it reminded me of laying a stone wall on a side-hill, with all the stone one the lower side!"

"As from the wing, no fear the sky retails, the perched were not far from the led, 'Twas so did in human hearts the thoughts of death."

So to most of will close up, and fade away the memory of that sad day. But there are hearts that will never be healed. There are wounds which will be ever fresh with reproaches, scars forever eloquent with curses upon the guilt, ignorance, or folly of the prime movers upon that fatal field. I am glad to see that you have several correspondents "native and to the manor born" who are keeping you posted upon events fresh from the "tented field." This will doubly compensate your readers for any loss they may have suffered from my negligence. The Wisconsin third, fourth, and fifth I am certain have not been here. The fourth and fifth I think are in Baltimore.

General McClellan is extra judicious in giving publicity to military movements. If I were to say what I think, it would be that his attention is being directed toward the upper Potomac, in the neighborhood of General Banks' division. Two regiments have passed with long wagon trains up that way, since I commenced writing the above. With two or three Bull's Run incidents I will close my present communication:

In the thickest of the contest a secession colonel of cavalry was knocked out of his saddle by a ball from one of our riflemen. "There goes Old Baker, of the Georgia firs," shouted one of our boys, in hearing of his chaplain. "Who?" queried the parson. "Colonel Baker, of the rebel ranks, has gone to his long home." "Ah, well," replied the chaplain, quietly, "the longer I live the less cause I have to find fault with the inscrutable acts of Divine Providence." An unlucky private in one of the New York regiments was wounded in this fight, and his surgeon was carried to the hospital just as the surgeon was removing the ball from the back of his shoulder. The boy lay with his face downward on the pallet. "Ah, my poor son," said the father, mournfully, "my face carry for you. But it's a bad place to be hit in—thus in the back!" The sufferer turned over, bared his breast, and pointing to the opening above the arm-pit, exclaimed, "Father, here's where the ball went in. One of our riflemen had his piece carried away by a ball, which struck it out of his hands just as his company was in the act of advancing to storm one of the smaller rebel batteries. Unarmed, he sprang forward and threw himself down on his face, under the enemy's guns. A Zouave lay there, wounded and bleeding, out of the way of the murderous fire. 'Lay close—lay close, old boy,' said the latter to the new comer, 'the boy'll take this old fencer's name, and then we'll get up an' give 'em a rebels fit ag'in." Three minutes afterwards the battery was carried, and the two soldiers were in the thickest of the fight again. Yours truly, A. G.

Last Night's Report.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.
The accident on the Philadelphia & Baltimore railroad was to a freight train, which caused a delay to the passenger train. One of a train of cars filled with army wagons, after being drawn off the boat at Havre du Grace, on this side, ran back, and before it could be checked the car went into the dock and nine horses were smothered. The damage was not great. The wagons were all taken out. All obstruction to travel was removed in four hours.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
Post's special.—Intelligence has just been received from Manassas Junction to the effect that the rebel troops at that point number over 60,000 men. There is a great scarcity of water. Supplies are drawn into camp in hogheads a distance of several miles.

The wife of Mr. Hart, late superintendent of public printing, left this city a day or two since to join her husband. She has been engaged for some time past in transporting letters to and from the rebels.

Two more regiments from Wisconsin, the 5th and 6th, have arrived here, accompanied by an artillery regiment from Pennsylvania.

It is rumored that Senators Breckinridge and Powell, and Representative Burnett of Kentucky will resign their seats in congress. They are quite disgusted with the Union and the result of the election in their state.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 8.
The five men caught aboard the Eucharist, being the prize of the privateer Jeff Davis, were to-day committed for treason, after a preliminary examination, to answer at the next term of the circuit court on a charge of piracy.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.
Post's dispatch says a boat from Mathias Point states the rebels are planting batteries there with the intention of cutting off water communication with Washington.

A special to the Commercial states that Mrs. Hart carried valuable information to the rebels.

Ex-Minister Faulkner has left Baltimore for Martinsburg.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
It appears from the data of the committee of ways and means that the total of appropriations at the last session of congress, is $275,000,000; of this, $147,000,000 is for the army, $35,000,000 for the navy, and the remainder for various other purposes.

Judge Laurens, so long a member of the board of appeals in the United States patent office, has resigned, and connects himself for business with Robert W. Fenwick, and established a patent agency at Washington.

It is understood that Col. Sickles will be appointed a brigadier general by the President.

NILES, Mich., Aug. 8.—3 P. M.
The western part of Michigan, especially the region about Niles, was visited last night by a most severe storm of rain, accompanied with terrific thunder and lightning.

Great damage was done in various directions.

Trees were uprooted, buildings destroyed, cattle and horses killed, and in some instances human life lost.

The barn of G. S. Bristol, in this town, was struck by lightning and a fine horse killed.

Yesterday forenoon a young man named Hubert Fellows, while cradling oats near Dayton, was struck by lightning and instantly killed.

The house of Charles Moore, near Pokagon, was struck last night, and riddled. Eleven persons were in the house, but, strange to say, none were killed.

A boy and a team, working in a field near Lawton, were struck, and all killed.

There are rumors of other casualties.

The night express train coming west on the Michigan Central railroad ran into a culvert three miles west of Dowagiac. The culvert was new and of stone, built this season. In the darkness the engineer did not see that it was gone. The train was running at full speed. The engine cleared the open space, but the two forward coaches were smashed and four persons injured, whose names are not ascertained. None were killed.

A bridge at Pokagon was carried away this morning.

All trains on the road have been delayed.

Orders have just been received for this morning express train eastward to move on from here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.
Col. Cook has left here for Wisconsin, to raise a regiment of mounted riflemen, to join Gen. Rufus King's brigade.

Col. Dieckey's field officers are selected. The field officers are selected.

Owen Lovejoy is authorized to raise a regiment.

Prince Napoleon dined with Lord Lyons last evening, and attended the diplomatic reception at Secretary Seward's.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8.
Col. Tyler, aid to Beauregard at Manassas, was captured here to-day.

CAIRO, ILL., Aug. 8.
Three privates in Capt. Williams' company, Col. Turchin's regiment, named Adams, Rice and Price, arrested yesterday for deserting, will be drummed out to-morrow.

Nineteen of Pillow's scouts took breakfast at Charleston yesterday. They were scared off by the eighteenth regiment.

Pillow has made a levy upon New Madrid and Mississippi counties for four hundred wagons and one thousand horses.

It is reported that he pays rebel owners of horses in Missouri bonds issued by Gov. Jackson. Union men are paid nothing.

Four hundred rebels moved to New Madrid from East Prairie, six miles from Charleston, on Monday.

Nothing new has transpired to-day. All is quiet.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 8.—11 P. M.
Paymasters have arrived from Washington, and will at once commence paying off in full all the three months men. The majority will re-enlist for the war. The city is full of soldiers constantly arriving from Illinois. They are unarmed, but receive weapons at the arsenal. Two more regiments are expected to-night. The heavy rifle cannon lately arrived, are being rapidly transported from the Pacific depot to the arsenal. The city is quiet.

ROLLA, MO., August 8.
Mr. Borden, stage proprietor from Springfield, Monday noon, furnishes the following items:

General Lyon with his forces had fallen back on Springfield, having reached there Monday morning, and was preparing for a vigorous defence. The rebels were advancing by four different roads, and their advance guard was estimated to be from ten to fifteen miles distant. Gen. Lyon had called in 2,500 horse guards from the country around Springfield. It was expected that in the evening they would make an immediate attack, from the fact that their commissariat was in a miserable condition, they being obliged to depend on forced contributions for temporary supplies. It was generally remarked in Springfield that Gen. Lyon was perfectly confident of success, in case of an attack. He had no entrenchment, but would depend upon his splendid artillery in the open field. Fifty wagons laden with provisions had reached him.

ALBANY, Aug. 8.
At the meeting of the democratic state committee, here, to-day, a communication was received from the republican state committee, asking the democratic state committee to unite with them in holding a state convention. After reviewing the present condition and principles of the democratic party, the response says that it would be well, at this time, to fill the leading public offices, especially in the federal government, to which the conduct of public affairs belongs, with men whose purity of character and capacity for administrative labors were so well known as to command the confidence of the people, now lost; and it is also probable that if this example were set in the conduct of federal affairs, it would be followed by the people on the selection of their state officers, but we would be false to the party which we represent if we consider any proposition of union with former political opponents, except upon the basis of that principle. The response concludes by saying, we are therefore instructed by our committee to say that in their call for the usual democratic convention they will invite all good citizens who are willing to co-operate with the democrats to these ends, to come together at the primary meetings and unite in selecting representatives to such a convention, to nominate candidates for the support of the electors of the state upon this platform of Union and patriotism.

The sub-committee of the republican state central committee met this afternoon after the meeting of the democratic committee. After agreeing on a call and statement, they say the foregoing call is issued under circumstances which require explanation. The republican state committee, at their meeting on the 6th inst., feeling deeply sensible that the present disastrous situation of affairs in our country demanded for the time being an entire obliteration of all party feeling, and realizing the fact that they, as the representatives of a powerful and dominant party in the state, could best afford to make the first advance, did, after mature deliberation, adopt the resolutions contained in the communication, of which a copy is given below. On the assembling of the democratic state committee, our communication was presented to them, to which communication the committee responded in a labored refusal to call a convention as above requested, and indicated a determination on their part to sacrifice to party the government, state and nation, instead of yielding them a generous support in this struggle for political existence; to restore and perpetuate the lacerous policy so shamelessly carried out during the late administration of Buchanan; and to compel compromise with rebels in arms, at once humiliating and dishonorable. Under these circumstances your committee cordially invite citizens friendly to the maintenance of the government, to unite with us in selecting a ticket for state officers, to be supported at the approaching election.

The resolution under which the republican sub-committee was appointed—composed of George O'Lyke, Draper, Strong, Allen and Loomis—was as follows:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to wait upon the democratic state committee at their meeting to be held in this city on the 8th inst., to invite them to call their convention at the same time and place as the republican convention, for the purpose of enabling the two conventions to unite in the nomination of a union ticket, pledged to the vigorous prosecution of the war for the restoration of the authority of the constitution, and the execution of the federal laws in all sections of the country.

Resolved, That the sub-committee have power to fix the time and place of the convention on the part of this committee.

Special dispatch to the N. Y. Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
Prince Napoleon has gone to Manassas and Richmond with his suite.

He was escorted through our lines by General McDowell and two companies of cavalry.

There is some excitement in consequence, as all the members of his suite are well posted respecting the defenses of Washington.

General McDowell's official report of the battle of Bull's Run fills one hundred and forty pages.

He gives our loss at 500 killed and 1,100 wounded. There is no positive statement of the missing.

He says he conformed to his orders, and would have been successful if he could have gone to the railroad above the Junction in time to have destroyed it.

The President appointed to-day Keyes, Porter, and H. Lockwood Brigadier-Generals.

The first regiment of Sickles' brigade crossed into Virginia to-day, 1,100 strong.

The first regiment of Pennsylvania artillery has arrived, with thirty-two brass 12-pounders.

A flag of truce came in from the rebel lines across the Potomac to-day, with letters from 400 prisoners at Richmond.

Lord Lyons sent to the President a statement showing the names and number of vessels of various nations that have evaded the blockade of the southern ports, and intimates that England will not recognize such a blockade.

MORNING DESPATCHES.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
Letters have just been received here, one dated the 22d and the other the 29th of July, from Capt. Withering of the 1st Michigan regiment, stating that he was wounded at Bull's Run, but taken prisoner while attempting to assist Col. Wilcox off the field. Col. Wilcox's arm is badly shattered. Capt. Rickett was also wounded. Dr. Lewis, of the 2d Wisconsin, is attending him. Mrs. Rickett is with her husband. Capt. Withering writes that they are treated with great kindness; they are all on their parole of honor not to escape or to take up arms against the southern confederacy. The parties are probably now in Richmond, as the wounded were to be removed thither as soon as possible.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
The senate on the last day of the session conferred the following named postmasters, in addition to those appointed during the recess of congress: Gen. W. Edwards, at Mr. Pleasant, Iowa, and Samuel Russell, Hillsdale, Michigan.

There is strong ground for belief that the Prince Napoleon's visit to this country, is more for political than any other purposes, and for the enlightenment of the Emperor on the current affairs.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.
The post master general has received the following despatch dated

CHARLESTON, S. C., Aug. 7.
The rebels have been expelled from Kanawha; can the mail service be resumed here?

(Signed)
W. S. ROSENCRANZ,
Brigadier General.

The department in reply telegraphed that they had authorized the immediate resumption of said service, where ever it is safe to do so, and the service can be entrusted to safe hands.

What is the difference between a $40 note and a wife at forty? One you can change for two twenties, and the other you can't.

Herald's dispatch.—The following is the official report of the artillery losses at the battle of Bull's Run, and referred to in the report of Gen. McDowell:

Company D, 2d artillery, Capt. Arbold, 6 rifled field pieces; company A, 1st artillery, Capt. Pickens, 6 rifled Parrott 10-pounders; company E, 2d artillery, Capt. Carlisle, 2 rifled pieces and 2 howitzers; company C, 5th artillery, Capt. Griffin, 1 rifled piece and 8 smooth bores; company G, 1st artillery, 130-pounder Parrott gun; Rhode Island battery, 5 rifled pieces. Total, 17 rifled and 18 smooth bores.

Additional reports make the losses in ammunition, quartermaster and commissary stores as follows:

One hundred and fifty boxes small cartridges, 87 boxes rifled cannon ammunition, 30 boxes old fire arms, 16 wagons loaded with provisions, and 3,000 bushels of oats. It is estimated that 2000 muskets and 8000 knapsacks and blankets were lost.

An officer who has just arrived from the farthest outposts of our lines towards the rebels, reports everything quiet, and says the rebels are still concentrating pretty large force at Fairfax, and that they are throwing up entrenchments and fortifications along the whole line on the highest points.

AFTERNOON DESPATCHES.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 8.
Messrs. Breckinridge and Vallandigham have taken part of a grand dinner at the Eutaw House, this evening, given by the Baltimore secessionists. At 11 o'clock they were serenaded by the Blues band. Mr. Breckinridge is now attempting to speak, but is constantly interrupted by cheers for Crittenden, Gen. Scott, the Kentucky election and for the Union. It is impossible to hear what he is endeavoring to say. There are several thousand persons present, a majority of whom are Union men. They call on the band for the Star Spangled Banner and Yankee Doodle, but can get nothing from them but Dixie and the Marseilles, to quiet the people. They were responded to by cries of "Remember the 19th of April," "remember the week of terror."

Several fights took place and some of the secessionists were roughly handled. He was finally compelled to retire without speaking, and the cheers of his friends were deafened amid groans and hisses.

Mr. Vallandigham did not attempt to speak, and the crowd dispersed with cries for the Union and groans for Jeff. Davis, interrupted by counter cheers and groans.

Breckinridge continued to speak for half an hour. Interruptions were so frequent that but here and there a sentence could be obtained. He said that he desired to speak for the poor and weak, and not for the rich and powerful. Here Mr. B. was interrupted by a powerful voice, "You lie, you know you do!" Mr. B. then referred to the position of Maryland, whose citizens had again and again been outraged in their dearest constitutional rights. To all the respectful inquiries as to charges alleged against those who had been rudely turned from their homes and their families, nothing but contemptuous responses had been returned. Do you, let it be asked, call this liberty? Cries of no, no, no, interrupted with cries of "Oh, dry up! you are a liar!" Mr. B. here inquired of those who manifested a disposition not to listen to him, why they did not desire him? This question was followed by loud cheers and hisses.

A violent commotion was now observed to take place among the crowd, which swayed from pavement to pavement as if under strong excitement, and the clubs of policemen were seen to be applied with vigor upon the heads of those who were resisting the crowd.

Mr. Breckinridge speaking amid the din, said that those who interrupted him with opprobrious epithets and hisses are poor negroes who were tightening the degrading fetters which bound them, and I feel personally responsible for the poor fellows so rudely treated. I grieve to think that any one should be hurt on my account. (Cries of good and cheers for Jeff. Davis and the southern confederacy.) An active fight now sprung up and occupied the attention of the crowd for several minutes, and occasioned a general stampede.

Mr. Breckinridge said, "it is evident that the disturbers are but few in number as they feared to hear him. Do I speak truly?" The inquiry was met by epithets directed against the speaker. "Never mind, they are just from jail and the almshouse."—Cheering was here renewed, and was immediately followed by a renewal of violent disturbances. "You poor fellows may hiss now, but your children will bless me." A voice—"Oh! go to South Carolina, and be d—d to you."

This was met by violent cheering, and a descent was again made by the police on the crowd. This was followed by a gang of men from the right towards the side where the cheers proceeded. Cheering was again renewed, when another scene of commotion ensued, during which several men were severely beaten, and pursued bleeding from the streets. Mr. B. "If you do not intend to allow me to speak, then to express you, I did not venture to address you, remember. [Cheers and hisses.] If I did not know that the squad of men disturbing this assemblage were the opponents of the sentiments of the people of Baltimore, I should despair of your city. [Cheers for Jeff. Davis and Gen. Scott.] Amid frequent interruptions the speaker continued to say that since the time when the constitution had been designed as a limit to despotic power nothing so outrageous as the acts of the administration had ever occurred. Liberty existed before the constitution was formed and whenever the issue is presented between that on the one hand and reform of government on the other, the form would prevail but principles would still survive. [Hisses, groans and cheers.]

Black Property.

We take from an article in Parson Brownlow's paper, the Knoxville Whig, the following extracts, which show in what light slaves in time of war have hitherto been treated by southern politicians and generals. The Parson cites these instances in order to show how much better southerners are treated by the present government and by the present commanders than by the Jacksonian policy may soon become a necessity and a practice in the present war. The extracts are these:

"In 1839, Gen. Jessup had captured many slaves and Indians in Florida, and had ordered them west of the Mississippi. At New Orleans the slaves were claimed by the owners under legal process; but Gen. Gaines commanding that military district, and a man who was never tainted with abolitionism, refused to deliver them to the sheriff, and appeared in court, making his own defense.

"He asserted that in time of war all slaves were belligerents, as much as the masters. The slave men, said he, cultivate the earth and supply provisions. The women cook the food, nurse the wounded and sick, contribute to the maintenance of the war, often more than the same number of males. The slave children equally contribute whatever they are able to the support of the war.

"In 1838, Gen. Taylor captured a number of negroes, who turned out to be fugitive slaves. Citizens of Florida, who declared themselves to be the lawful owners of the slaves, rallied to the general's camp, and made their demands. Gen. Taylor replied that he had no prisoners but 'prisoners of war.' The alleged owners desired to examine them, but the veteran general told them that no man should examine his prisoners for any such purpose; and he ordered them to leave his camp. Complaint was made to President Van Buren and his cabinet, and Taylor was sustained, while the slaves were sent out west.

"In December, 1814, Gen. Andrew Jackson seized upon a large number of slaves at and near to New Orleans, actually in the possession of their honest owners, and kept them at hard labor, erecting defenses, behind which his troops won the victory of the 8th of January, 1815. The owners remonstrated—denounced Jackson for a usurper

J. M. BURESS, Postmaster.

Proceedings of the City Council.

REGULAR MEETING.
THURSDAY EVENING, AUG. 8, 1861.

Present—The Mayor, and all the aldermen but Mr. Pearce.

A petition was received from residents on Pleasant street, asking the council to remit their city tax because improvements on that street heretofore asked for had not been made.

After some discussion, the petition was withdrawn.

The finance committee reported in favor of allowing the bill of Lyman Smith, $8 for repairs on bridge, and of H. A. Robertson, $36 for killing and burying thirty-six dogs.

An order was directed to be issued to Mr. Smith on the bridge fund, and $20 from the dog license fund appropriated to Mr. Robertson in part payment of his claim.

Ald. Collins, from the aldermen of the 3d ward, asked further time to report on the petition for the improvement of the lower end of Main street. Granted.

Ald. Smith called attention to a pond of water in Calkin's addition, caused by the removal of a culvert under Main street, and a neglect to make provision for carrying off the water.

On motion of Ald. Bates, the matter was referred to the aldermen of the 3d ward, with instructions to adopt such measures as they may deem necessary, and with power to commence a suit against the persons who removed the stone and lumber from the culvert.

Adjourned.

RANDALL ZOUAVE.—E. R. Beckley, formerly of Missouri, and now residing at Madison, was some time since appointed a lieutenant by Gov. Randall, with power to enlist a company for the war. Lieut. Beckley has been actively engaged in getting up his company under the above title, and has so far succeeded, that he needs but a few more volunteers to raise the number to 101. It is to be a Zouave company and will become a part of the Zouave regiment, which Col. White of this city will probably command.

HYDROPHOBIA.—Another of Mr. Culver's hogs went mad yesterday, from the effect of the attack of the rabid dog which got into his yard. We are informed that a multitude of unmailed dogs can be found almost any time on the road to Mr. Culver's house, and that it is a good route for a visit of the dog-killer.

WASHINGTON ENGINE CO. No. 3.—There will be a special meeting of this company on Saturday evening, August 10th, at 7 o'clock. It is desired that every member should be present, as business of importance comes before the meeting.

D. C. WARD.

J. T. Wilcox, Sec'y.

EARNING THEIR LIVING.—Under a late law of the legislature authorizing the employment of a certain class of convicts at labor, Sheriff Putnam put three men at work to-day. They are employed in removing gravel from the court house hill to the jail lot—an "equalization" eminently beneficial. Two of these now useful subjects have been for a long time able-bodied vagrants.

NEWS FROM THE SECOND REGIMENT.—The Madison Journal of last evening says:—"From a private letter received this afternoon from Washington, by Postmaster Keyes, we learn that the men of the second regiment are doing well under command of Col. O'Connor, and that Maj. McDonald has been promoted to be Lieutenant Colonel, and that Lucius Fairchild has been appointed major of said regiment."

THE Madison Journal says there is a destruction of Wisconsin currency going on every day in front of the bank comptroller's office. About $100,000 have been purloined by fire within the last three or four days.

The Watertown Chronicle says: E. A. Calkins, Esq., the late popular editor of the Madison Argus & Democrat, dropped into our sanctum last Monday. He was on his way to Ripon to join Prof. Daniels' battalion of cavalry, of which he is a member. He will prove himself to less a champion of the sword than the quill.

HOT WEATHER AT WATERLOO.—The Democrat of Thursday says:—James Callahan, a resident of the fourth ward, while harvesting on Thursday last, was struck dead in the field. He was a poor man and leaves a large family to suffer by his untimely death.

Mr. Deitrich, a German, being exhausted and staggered by the heat, got upon the fence to rest, but soon tumbled down and gasped his last. This occurred Saturday.

John A. Wiseman, a young man of twenty, while engaged in pitching off a load of hay, on Thursday, fell dead. He resided in Emmet.

Seven or eight others met a similar fate hereabouts.

A People's Ellsworth Regiment is being formed in New York, consisting of one picked soldier from each township in the state.

A GEEK BY ABE.—At a recent levee the president during the promenade, met with several introductions. One man, from the interior of Pennsylvania, said, "Well, Mr. President, I went to Chicago determined to have you come here, and voted for you from last to last, and now you are here." The president, retaining his hand, as he bent his head down, jocularly said, "Yes, and a pretty scrape you have got me into." "We have got the right man in the right place," replied the delegate, as he passed along.

Correspondence of the Janesville Daily Gazette.

From the Fifth Wisconsin Regiment.
CAMP McKELM, Baltimore, August 5th, 1861.

DEAR GAZETTE.—Since I wrote my last letter the colonel has changed the name of our camp; he was not willing to have many honors heaped on his head before he showed that he could earn them. There are a series of events connected with our camp which may not be out of place to relate here. The house which is now occupied by our field officers was the famous place where Marshal Lane secreted a large portion of those arms which were taken from him by Gen. Banks. In the wall by the house were a large number of guns. East of the main house is a new brick house, which was built for a powder house and was filled with arms and ammunition when searched. The boys now use it for a writing house. North of our camp is the cemetery, and the rebels once had forty tons of powder stored there, but I believe the most of it was taken by our men last spring. The colonel has got some arms for us and we sleep with them loaded and by our sides every night, because the rebels have threatened to drive us from this hill before long. The arms are percussion muskets and we are to keep them but a short time, until we can get better ones. Major Larrabee returned a few days since, and he was as pleased as a little boy with a rattle to see us. The boys crowded around him and shook his hand until I thought they would shake it off.

The 6th Wisconsin regiment have arrived and are encamped in sight of us. I am told the measles are among them and that a large number are sick on that account, and one has died. The sick of our regiment, and company, are getting better. No one has died yet and no one in like to that I know of now. Our officers are very careful of our health; we are never allowed to lie down on the ground without our rubber blanket under us to keep the dampness from us. We are divided into squads, and each squad is looked after by a corporal or sergeant.

The rebels here are very envious towards us, and endeavor in every way to try our patience—they throw stones at the sentries in the night—crowd on their beat in the day time when the regiment is on parade. There is a grove near us in which the cemetery above referred to is situated, and our sentries stand near it, so the rebels have a good chance to throw stones at us. They try to talk with the sentries, and because we will not answer them they call us all sorts of names; but there is one thing certain, if they harm one of us where we are in our own regular beat they will rue it.

We have changed our drill from the line or heavy to the light or skirmishing infantry, and like it a vast deal better than the old. We are kept very strict here. No one is allowed out of the camp without a written pass from the colonel. No one is allowed to buy anything from any one out of the camp, without a permit in writing. This is to prevent our being poisoned by the rebels. One of the boys was out after water yesterday, and he bought a cake and was badly poisoned, it is better now. I remarked that the sick of our company were better; among these I will mention Pepper, Lincoln, Rogers, Maxon and Wilson; how Platt, Johnson and the rest are I do not know as they are at Harbursburg.

The weather is very hot to-day, and while I attempt to write the perspiration runs in streams off my face and neck, and my hands are so wet that I cannot write more than two words without stopping to wipe them, and then they wet and blot my paper, but hot as it is here we do not suffer as much as when we were in Camp Randall. Wait while I eat a piece of melon which one of boys has bought. There I feel better now.

Since I wrote the above, I have learned that Platt, Warner, Johnson and Ripley are better. Should any one doubt our living well, I will tell you what we had for dinner; (I have written before who I mess with,) potatoes, meat, bread, pepper, salt, onions, mustard and tea. I was on guard yesterday and I feel rather sleepy; so I will relate one or two incidents more and close. The rebels feel angry because we will not let them into the camp, and while I was on guard in the afternoon one tried to run my hands and he bayonet brought him to his senses and he went back around the corner swearing about us at a tall rate. The officers are determined that we shall be the best disciplined regiment in the whole army and the best behaved. No one is allowed to be noisy or to gamble on Sunday.

Last night a large crowd gathered to see the dress parade of the 5th regiment, and all seemed well pleased with the appearance of the troops. It was a fine show to see the whole regiment dressed alike, and all armed alike except the left company, which was the Zouaves. The daughter of the regiment attracted a great deal of attention by her costume. The entertainments closed by an exhibition of elevating a man by throwing him up on a blanket. I must close as I have to wash my clothes to-day, get supper and be ready for drill at 5 o'clock.

Yours in haste,

J. M. KIMBALL.

McKELM'S MAXIMS, Baltimore, August 4th, 1861.

MR. J. R. BENNETT—DEAR SIR:—We are encamped at the above named place. It is a very pleasant place, on a hill overlooking the city and bay. Our boys are all well, except a few that have the measles. Our men are orderly and well behaved; we have the name of being the best disciplined troops in the city, and there are about 13,000 here. We are under Major General Dix. Our orders are strict, and I, for one, am in favor of it; but the majority of officers and men do not like it. However, it must be submitted to. I feel very thankful to the citizens of Janesville for the many kind favors and the excellent edibles which they gave us for our regiment. The whole regiment speak in the highest terms of the people of Janesville for their generosity. The 5th thinks Janesville some if not more.

We were treated very kindly all the route here; at every place we came to, the people would come out with refreshments of all kinds, pies, cakes and coffee, ice water, and we were loaded down until wearied at Harbursburg, where we found the people overrun with return soldiers, who had not as yet been paid off. They were living on the charity of the people; there was at least 8000, and nearly all awaiting to be paid off. They were all Pennsylvania troops. By some means they were not paid off as soon as they arrived, but were kept waiting for nearly a week; they became very much out of patience, and in fact, they got rather out of good discipline, so much so, that it became necessary to call the soldiers out of Camp Curtin to quell them. After they got their pay there was no more trouble. As yet I have seen no regiment whose men will compare with ours. Our regiment has gained a name that we feel proud of—that is we are civil and try to behave ourselves. We are in the hottest seething hole in Baltimore, and what is more strange, they are all the lowest grades of Irish.

We found the people of Harbursburg all good, kind and loyal, and very accommodating. When we left that city I supposed we had left all the friends we should meet; but after we got as far as the state of Maryland, we found the warmest friends to the Union I have yet seen. The ladies would come out along the line of the road and display the richest flags I ever saw. The Unionists here look at us as their only salvation, and you can hardly believe me when I tell you that we have no idea of the position that the Union men stand in, in the southern states. It is life or death with them; they have got to keep a strong look-out both ways. Old neighbors who have lived here in friendship their lifetime, are now the most deadly enemies, ready to butcher each other the first opportunity. Civil war is the most horrible of all wars conceivable.

It is now supper time and I will close as I have to go on parade.

I remain yours with all due respect,

JAS. MILLS.

VOLUNTEER COMPANIES AND COMMISSIONS.—The following will furnish valuable information to persons interested in the war movements in this state. The first list shows the infantry companies which have tendered their services and reported full, remaining on the register in the executive office, after the filling up of the 6th regiment, and the commissions of several companies, heretofore called upon, but known to be disbanded:

Lodi Guards, Onondaga Rifles, Ripon Guards, Sugar River Rifles, Eau Claire Rifles, Hamilton Guards, Fond du Lac County, Wisconsin Infantry, Washington Rifles, Milwaukee, Roseville Infantry, Columbia County, Wisconsin, Wolf River Rifles, Onondaga County, Madison Rifles, Bay City Guards, Wausau Infantry, Platteville Rifles, Fox River Zouaves, Marquette County Sharpshooters, Lad Acker Rifles, Onondaga County, and Rock County Sharpshooters, Columbia County Guards, Grand Rapids Union Guards, Elkhart County Independent Co., St. Clair Rifles, Princeton Light Guards, Ladok City Guards, No. 10, Kingston Guards, Sauk County, Fox Lake Volunteers, Rosh and Read Guards, Kane County, Elkhart Light Guards, Madison Sharpshooters, Total, 16.

The following is the list of persons who have received commissions in the State Militia, authorizing them to enroll companies of volunteers. These commissions do not authorize any expenses to be made against them. When under them, or without them, 65 able-bodied men have enlisted themselves, they can proceed to elect officers, who will be commissioned in the State Militia; and when 83 are enlisted and report of such fact made to the executive office or to the adjutant general's office, the company will be registered, and called in its turn for active service.

WASHINGTON'S OPINION OF NORTHERN SOLDIERS.—In a letter of Washington to his friend Lund, in June, 1776, occurs the following passage, in which he most graphically describes the peculiarities of northern and southern men for soldiers, and gives a preference for the qualities of the northern men, the justice of which the present campaign is likely to verify:

"We have lately had a general review, and I have much pleasure in informing you that we made a much better appearance, and went through our exercises more like soldiers, than I had expected. The southern states are rash and blameworthy in the judgment they form of their brethren of the four New England states. I do assure you, with all my partiality for my own countrymen, and prejudices against them, I can but consider them as the flower of the American army. They are strong, vigorous and hearty people, insured to labor and toil, which our people seldom are; and though our hot and eager spirits may suit in a sudden and desperate enterprise, yet in the way in which wars are now carried on, you must look for permanent advantages only from that patient and persevering temper which is the result of labor. The New Englanders are cool, considerate and sensible, whilst we are all fire and fury.—Like their climate, they maintain an equal temperature, whereas we cannot shine but we burn. They have a uniformity and stability of character to which the people of no other states have any pretensions; hence they must and will always preserve their influence in this great empire. Were it not for the drawback and disadvantage which the influence of their popular opinions on the subject of government have on their army, they soon might, and probably will, give law to us."

A reflection for hot weather—that though the seceders have stolen the mint, down south, how'n thunder can they get along without ice!

A German being required to give a receipt in full, after much mental effort produced the following:—I wish. I want no money.

JOHN SWACKHAMMER.

The number of Catholics in Ireland is 4,500,000; of Protestants 1,273,963.

ALL SORTS OF PARAGRAPHS.

Dennis Keys was found dead on the 2d inst. in the wheat field of Mr. Lucas, in the town of Fitchburg, Dane county. He lived in Madison, and had gone out into the country to work. He died from drinking liquor.

Chauncey Shaffer, of New York, has tendered to the government three regiments of mounted riflemen. He was left to his discretion to bring his men into service under any other auspices.

Gen. Kelly, who was severely wounded at Philippi, was presented with a splendid horse by citizens of Wheeling, on the 31st ult., and the next day left to take his position in the army in western Virginia.

Buell K. Hutchinson of Prairie du Chien, and at present a member of the state senate from that district, has been appointed an assistant commissary in the army.

The immense hotel in course of construction at St. Louis, and known as the Lindell House, is to be completed next March. The Messrs. Leland of the New York Metropolitan, are under $200,000 bonds to take the house and open it for business when completed.

It is reported that Alf Burnett, the well known elocutionist and poet, was killed at Peoa, Kanawha river. He was connected with one of the Ohio regiments. "Alf" belonged in Cincinnati, but was well known in this city as a genial, talented, kind-hearted man. Hosts of friends will mourn his untimely loss.

The Augusta (Ga.) Constitutionalist says that among the killed in the battle was Geo. Stovall of Rome, Ga., editor of the Southern. James Jackson, of Alabama, the well known sporting man, and part owner of the race-horse Daniel Boone, was also killed.

A NEW WAY TO ATTACK FORT PICKENS.—The Mobile Evening News gravely puts forth the following proposition: "Let Gen. Bragg detail a few thousand of his ten thousand to the work of catching snakes, and as soon as they have collected several cart loads of those interesting reptiles, let tin or sheet iron shell, or canister be charged with them—the enclosure being cylindrical, and of size to fit the largest mortar, and so made that it will break and liberate its contents upon falling within the fort. We would warn those who charge the shells to put only the same species into each, as if the different snakes were mixed, they would sting each other to death, before having a chance to operate on Billy Wilson's Zouaves. The corners and interstices in each shell might be filled up with a few quarts of tarantulas, scorpions, centipedes and lizards, however, to make close work, as the snakes would pick loosely."

The Mobilians will find they have waked up a whole regiment of snakes, if Billy Wilson's Zouaves ever get hold of them.

QUITS A DIFFERENCE.—Prof. Read, who has just returned from a visit to his old friends in Indiana, informs us that Gov. Morton of that state has subsidized twenty-one regiments for less than thirteen cents a day for each man. Only look at it! Here, we have been paying thirty-seven-and-a-half cents for the same purpose, besides appointing two supernumeraries to each regiment at an expense of over $2,000 per annum each. Thus our people can see that we have paid 24¢ cents to each man per day more than they do in Indiana.

We understand that our two regiments, with employees and hangers on, numbered 2,500, fed at an expense of 24¢ cents more than it cost the state of Indiana. This would give an excess over the cost to Indiana for the same number, of five hundred and sixty-three dollars and fifty cents per day, and probably a net profit of over six hundred dollars per day. We are informed that the net profit of keeping the second fifth and sixth regiments at Madison a short time, reaches over twenty-five thousand dollars.—Madison Patriot.

SLOAT'S SEWING MACHINES,
CAN be seen a few doors east of the Post Office, on Milwaukee street. These Machines have proved their superiority over those heretofore offered to the public from the following facts: The elasticity of the seam. The complete adaptability to all thicknesses of fabric. They are the simplest machines in use and least liable to get out of order. They are so simple and complete in their construction as not to require a practical hand to use them. They run fast and gather.

These machines will be kept in repair on a free trial rule that cannot fail to suit the purchaser.

Price of Sewing Machine, $1.00 per year each. Special Notices, (tested and kept inside, having precedence of ordinary advertisements,) 50 per cent advance on ordinary rates.

DAILY GAZETTE.

THE REAL NATURE OF THE CONTEST.

Some few well-intentioned, but timid men, who see in the late Bull Run rout an absolute destruction of the prestige of the nation, and who wish to recognize the confederate states of America, to save any further effusion of blood, should bear in mind that, in the long run, money settles the question in war, as it does in almost every thing else. Take the state of South Carolina.

She can possibly bring into the field

17,000 men. It costs the American soldier north or south, or it costs their respective governments, $1,000 per annum to keep property fed, equipped and ready for action.

The estimate for the palmetto state alone will be $17,000,000 a year. Can a state which has only 350,000 whites bear this expense? Can she raise the wind

by state bonds, confederate states of America
